Saab 9000 Anniversary Edition

1 9 9 7

In the summer of 1947, Swedish aircraft manufacturer Saab (Svenska Aeroplan AB) presented its first earth-bound model. It was a new car in a revolutionary style.

Obviously, it was aircraft-inspired. The design was lightweight and the longitudinal profile of the car resembled the cross-section of an aero-plane wing. In spite of its compact, aerodynamic exterior, it was remarkably spacious inside. In the front, there was a small but energetic two-stroke, two-cylinder engine. It was transversely mounted and drove the front wheels, thereby providing more space and driving safety for the occupants.

Distinctly individual and intelligently engineered

The car was the "92001" – the first car prototype from Saab. It was created by a group of 15 enterprising aeronautic engineers who had no experience of car-building and little respect for car-building convention. Thus, they were able to approach car design with a completely open mind.

Fifty years and numerous innovations later, Saab still produces distinctly individual cars. Intelligently engineered for intelligent people, who seek an excellent means of transport which also reflects their individuality.

Performance with style and pleasure

The Saab 9000 is an excellent example of this approach. It is actually made to the same original formula: aerodynamic, timeless design, transverse engine, front-wheel drive and class-leading safety, matching its generously comfortable and versatile interior with top-class performance on the road. Performance which provides abundant driving pleasure and driving safety alike due to superior interaction between car and driver.

In order to commemorate these five decades of automotive design and manufacturing, Saab proudly presents the 50th Anniversary Edition of the Saab 9000.

In homage to the Saab heritage.

The 50th Anniversary Edition of the Saab 9000 is designed in accordance with the original values of Saab automotive engineering – just like all other Saab cars.

This particular version has some distinctive features, however. The exterior boasts special wheels as well as colour keyed bumpers, sill covers and front and rear spoilers. This not only enhances the visual appearance but also improves the aerodynamic qualities of the car.

The interior is luxurious. The leather upholstery – available in Black with Suede inlays and in Sand Beige with Alpaca inlays – features the aircraft symbol of the classic Saab logotype embossed in the backrest cushions of the front and rear seats.

The steering wheel has a wood/leather trim, and under your feet there are textile floor mats with a unique colour scheme.

Here's to the next fifty years.
